

AppSec Days Middle East 2026

OWASP Official Regional Conference

About The Conference

OWASP AppSec Days are official regional conferences of the Open Worldwide Application Security Project — the global non-profit behind the OWASP Top 10, the world's most referenced application security standard, trusted by developers, security teams, and organizations across every industry.

The Middle East edition joins a global series of AppSec Days events, bringing world-class application security expertise to the region for the first time.

Part of Global Series

AppSec Days is a worldwide series of official OWASP regional conferences held across Europe, Asia, and the Americas — bringing the global application security community together at a local level.

Why It Matters

The Middle East is rapidly advancing its digital infrastructure and national cybersecurity strategies. AppSec Days Middle East bridges the gap between global security expertise and regional needs — empowering local professionals, supporting national digital transformation agendas, and building a stronger security ecosystem across the region.

When & Where

Date: November 28–29, 2026

Venue: Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Website: [Event Website]

Who Attends

Application security professionals

Software developers and engineers

Government and regulatory bodies

Academic institutions and researchers

Industry leaders and technology companies

OWASP community members and contributors

Get Involved

Whether you are a sponsor, speaker, attendee, or partner — there is a place for you at AppSec Days Middle East 2026. Reach out to learn how you can be part of this landmark event.

[Committee Email Address]

[Event Website]

[Contact Number]